PADDLEWHEEL QUEEN

You Will Enjoy Cruising on Florida's Finest Cruise Boat

The Paddlewheel Queen was built in Dubuque, Iowa, having been completed and launched March 31, 1965. This sternwheel replica cruised over 2,250 miles on her adventurous journey down the Mississippi River, across the Gulf of Mexico, down the West coast of Florida, across Lake Okeechobee to enter the Intracoastal Waterway to its home Port. This plush 400 passenger luxury cruiser is a triple decker of all steel construction, powered by two Cummins Diesel Engines developing a total of 640 H.P. The first two decks are glass enclosed and centrally heated to allow for your all weather comfort, plus having individual tables and comfortably upholstered chairs, complemented with the plushest wall to wall Ruby Red carpeting. A Snack Bar, Souvenir Stand, and Ship's Cocktail Bar, will be open while cruising; plus there are Restrooms on board. The third deck is open for all to enjoy the Florida Sun or Tropical Night. The Paddlewheel Queen is fitted out with the most modern equipment and safety devices. All of this has made the Paddlewheel Queen the finest Cruise Ship in Florida. We are yours for — HAPPY CRUISING.

THE PADDLEWHEEL CREW

. . . welcomes you aboard starting at 6:30 P.M. and you are escorted through the plushy carpeted decks to your individually reserved nautical table set up with silverware, china and romantic candles.

While your congenial waitress takes your orders for your favorite cocktails, the Paddlewheel Queen's band begins playing entertaining and dancing music for your pleasure.

The gangplank is hoisted, all lines are cast off and we cruise away from our private landing onto the tropical starlit Intracoastal Waterway which becomes a fairyland of waterway lights glittering in the wake of our ship. The "Venice of America" is even more beautiful by night than by day and is added to by the friendly folks along our route mutually flashing their lights and exchanging greetings with our "Cruising Supper Club."

As we cruise through the Waterways, you are free to leave your private table and roam throughout all three decks plus the first two decks forward. A visit to the "Starlight Observation Deck" is a must — a most beautiful and relaxing pleasure.

Shortly after 8:00 P.M. you return to your reserved table where your waitress serves you a delicious tossed salad, followed up by a U.S. Choice Grade Sizzling Charcoal Steak Dinner. Enjoying cocktails, steaks and the Paddlewheel Queen's entertaining band, to the ever-changing panoramic view is a most pleasurable experience.

After you have comfortably relaxed and dined in the atmosphere of candlelight, the cruising Bandstand breaks loose with early day Mississippi River Steamboat Dixieland, taking you back to the Riverboat days, a direct link to the famed Paddlewheeler's past, a part of your colorful heritage as an American today, an era set to music.

Being the only cruise vessel on the Inland Waterways of the U.S.A. having a Charcoal Galley on board, the Paddlewheel Queen affords the luxurious distinction to Fort Lauderdale of being the one and only Cruise Boat luxurious enough to serve charcoal steaks while cruising; thus making it possible to cruise continuously for the three hours and navigate over approximately 25 miles of the "Venice of America's" Inland Waterways.

Gliding back into our landing at 10:30 P.M. aboard the Paddlewheel Queen, you will have had a most pleasurable and unforgettable evening on the glittering canals and waterways of Fort Lauderdale.

This most delightful "Starlight Steak Dinner Cruise" is enjoyed immensely by young and old alike; and when considering the Paddlewheel Queen's plush decor, the Captain requests dresses or dressy pants suits for ladies; jackets for men. (Ties optional)

The total price includes your 3 hour cruise, Sizzling Charcoal Steak Dinner, and the Queen's band supplying entertaining, dancing and dixieland music. The only additional expense is the tipping of your waitress accordingly, and purchasing your cocktails.
